

Lead High Performing Teams That Thrive Now and Into the Future

This self-paced e-course provides you with everything you need to lead your teams to high performance in both good times and bad. Created for busy leaders who want practical solutions for their team challenges, this course provides you with 'bite-sized' content and proven tools and strategies to ensure your team members demonstrate the practices most essential to their effectiveness.

25 Modules of Bite-Sized Content

Based on our over 30 years of research in leadership and team performance, this course is full of practical and powerful content allowing you to choose where you want to focus attention based on the needs of your team right now. With modules ranging from 10 to 50 minutes in length, you can invest as much or as little time as you can based on your needs.

You will gain the ability to:

- Ensure your team demonstrates the behaviors and practices most essential to its performance right now and beyond COVID-19.
- Build the cohesion and community your team needs to thrive in a remote setting.
- Improve and sustain productivity and performance.
- Lead highly effective virtual team meetings (and spend less time in meetings and accomplish more).
- Build team resilience, reduce overwhelm, and support team member well-being during a time of anxiety, complexity and flux.
- Strengthen communication, collaboration and trust.
- Build individual accountability and increase engagement.
- And more.

The Remote Team Tool Kit, Workbook and More
